| Trail Descriptions |

Millstone Trail
- Trail Length: 1.3 miles
- Surface Type: Packed Earth
- Trail Grade: 7%
- Accessible: Yes

The Millstone Trail begins at the Carpenter Recreation Area and follows an easy to moderate contour over grass and packed earth. The trail traverses a boardwalk at Millstone Pond below a geological feature of rock outcroppings.

Twin Valley Trail
- Trail Length: 1.5 miles
- Surface Type: Packed Earth
- Trail Grade: 7%
- Accessible: Yes

The Twin Valley Trail meanders through mature beech, maple, and tulip forests on a moderate grade. The trail passes the Arc Corner Monument and an old foundation and cellar hole, while providing an excellent path to experience this area of White Clay Creek State Park.

Whitely Farms Trail
- Trail Length: 3.1 miles
- Surface Type: Crushed Stone
- Trail Grade: 5%
- Accessible: Yes

The trail begins at the Nine Foot Road parking area near the old Whitely Farms. This single-track loop has a packed earth surface that passes through hayfields and forest of mature hardwoods. The grade is moderate throughout with a rapid descent near the connector for the David English Trail. The Whitely Farms Trail can also be accessed by a connector trail near the Possum Hill Parking Area. For a shorter trail experience, a double-track cut-off trail runs between Possum Hill and Hopkins Road.

Trail Courtesies
- Stay on the Trail
- No Biking on Soft Wet Trails
- Bikers Yield to Hikers
